OUTLINES.

The Senate yesterday took up and discussed the new Currency Bill . It is expected that it will pass it today. Quite a number of bills were passed in both houses yesterday, among them a house bill by the Senate providing for greater safety to railway employes——The third report of the Commissioner of Corporations, dealing with New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges, is given to the public——A majority and a minority report are made to the House of Representatives from the special committee investigating the wood pulp and print paper question. The former declared no contention of manufacturers has been found and recommends no action until further investigation. The minority report urges the passage of the pending bill putting wood pulp and print paper on the free list——The Hale-Davis murder trial at Bristol, Tenn., is expected to close today. The argument was begun yesterday——On June 12th the Prairie will sail for Colon with recruits for the warships in the Pacific and will bring back those whose terms have expired.——General Stephen D. Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans died at Vicksburg yesterday. General W. L. Cabell, of Dallas, Texas, by right of succession assumes command of the organization and issues a general order announcing the death of the former commander——Colin who has won 13 races for her owner, James R. Kun, bringing him $141,000, broke down yesterday in a practice race prepatory for a contest for the $25,000 purse tomorrow.——New York, May 28.—Money on call easy at 1 1-2 to 1 3-4 per cent., ruling rate 1 3-4, closing bid 1 1-2 offered 1 3-4, time loans very quiet nd stedy. Cotton closed quiet, 10 points lower, middling uplnds 11.40, middling gulf 11.65. Flour dull and about steady. Corn firm, No. 2 77 1-2 elevator nominal, options 1c higher. Wheat easy No. 2 red 1.03 nominal elevator, outions 1 to 2 1-2c lower. Oats steady mixed 54c. Rosin quiet. Turpentine quiet at 45c.

There seems to be a hitch somewhere very near the had in that Fifth District combine.

If this thing keeps up much longer you will hear of a cotton exchange being established at Wrightsville.

They say a good deal of cotton changed hands on Wrightsville beach Wednesday night, but no price quotations are given.

Don't you know some folks would have helped make that majority bigger if they had known how big it was going to be?

The Durham Herald wonders "what we will be raising sand about next." It need not worry, something will turn up to keep the people in a state of excitement.

Mr. Horne is keeping right along with the procession of county primaries in holding the balance of power and every day he does so strengthens his position.

The Florida Times-Union says they are now calling him "Too Late Johnson." The Bryanites had better not bank too much on that. Their man is not out of the woods yet.

And now the reported majority of 500 for Prohibition in Duplin county has "dried up." The official vote, canvassed yesterday, shows a majority of 17 against Prohibition.

Bears are becoming so numerous in the New Bern section that the Journal calls on hunters to leave smaller game and turn their attention to them as a more exciting and profitable sport.

Mr. Kitchin jumps on the New Bern Sun in a letter to that paper in which he says to it: "Your hostile course against me has doubtless taught your readers that it is not your purpose to give them any fair understanding of my record or character." Now, Brother Phillips, what are you going to do about it?

The Charlotte Chronicle says: "Quit fighting on the Prohibition election—it's a thing of the past. Let's get together and see what we can do for Horne." Right and sensible, Mr. Chronicle, as you always are. And, then, when we have nominated Horne let's all get together again and see how big a majority we can roll up for him.

If the Democratic bosses read out of the party every man claiming to be a Democrat who has ever voted for a Republican or scratched the name of a candidate off the Democratic ticket they will be in danger of coming up short on votes on the third of next November. Such contention comes with poor grace from those leaders of the party who always have been and are still strongly tainted with populism.

CLOSE OF CAMPAIGN

State Chairman Oates Calls For Day of Thanksgiving and Thank Offering.

THE NEWS OF RALEIGH

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 28.—The executive committee of the North Carolina Anti Saloon League, which had the direction of the State prohibition campaign through Chairman Jno. A. Oates is preparing to issue an appeal to the churches of all denominations in the State for thanksgiving services to be held either next Sunday or the earliest Sunday thereafter that is convenient for the respective congregations, when thanks will be given for the prohibition victory and a collection taken for meeting a deficit of about $2,000 in the prohibition campaign fund, obligations to that amount having been incurred in excess of the funds available.

It is understood that State Chairman Oates gave his personal assurance to printers and others who rendered the service that the money would be forthcoming soon after the election.

Chairman Oates was busy today closing his office here preparatory for returning to his home in Fayetteville where he will retain official State prohibition headquarters and keep up the State organization.

A. B. Blake, who runs a meat market here and is a Sanctification preacher, was indicted today in the court of Justice of the Peace Chas. Separks, on the charge of betting on the result of the prohibition election. W. T. Saddler was also indicted as the other party to the offence. It seems that Saddler offered to bet the preacher two to one that the State would go against prohibition and the preacher put up the money. The case will be tried tomorrow afternoon.

The closing exercises of the State School for the blind will take place tomorrow at 11 o'clock, the address by Governor Glenn. The attendance the past session was 352. There are no graduates this year.

Ira Oakley, the white man who wah brought here from Clarksville, Va., recently to answer the charge of burning the dwelling of James Underwood, near Fuquay Springs, the wife and child of Underwood losing their lives in the fire, is to have a preliminary hearing June 4th.

Hon. J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and ex-officio chairman of the Board of Trustees of the State Normal and Industrial College, Greensboro, is just back from the commencement of that institution and says the institution is in the most gratifying condition with indications for a great increase in the applications for admission this Fall. He also made educational addresses while away in Randolph ,Rowan and Guilford counties, mostly in the interest of local taxation for the improvement of schools.

It is the expectation of leading Methodists here that the recent purchase of thirty-three acres of land by the trustees of the North Carolina Methodist Orphanage may within five years result in the location of a Methodist College for women being located here on ten acres of the purchase that the Glennwood Land Co. stipulates shall be reserved for that length of time for that purpose, provided the Methodist conferences decide to locate such an institution here. The location specified is admirable for the purpose.

WILLIAM JOSEPH MORRIS

Veteran Coast Line Engineer and Valuable Wilmington Citizen Passed Away Yesterday—Funeral This Afternoon.

Mr. William Joseph Morris, for thirty-five years one of the trusted engineers of the Atlantic Coast Line and a citizen whom Wilmington was glad to claim as its own, passed away yesterday morning shortly after 8 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, members of the family and friends being at his bedside when the end came.

The death of Mr. Morris was foreshadowed in these columns a few hours before he passed away the end being expected at any moment since Wednesday midnight. Last Friday Mr. Morris underwent an operation at the hospital for gall stone and although he rallied splendidly from the operation, he developed an acute nervousness disorder and he gradually grew worse until the final summons came about the hour indicated from exhaustion. The news of the death was received with infinite sorrow by friends everywhere and the tenderest sympathy of the community went out to the bereaved ones, who just a year ago on last Tuesday had been deeply bowed down in grief because of the death of a son and brother, Mr. John Morris.

Mr. Morris was born in Wilmington November 8th, 1852, and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John W. Morris, being in the 56th year of his age when he died. At the early age of 12 years Mr. Morris began life on one of the steamboats plying the river, with the purpose of ultimately becoming a marine engineer. This aim in life was soon changed and he determined to become a locomotive engineer, serving his apprenticeship in the shops of the old Wilmington & Weldon railroad with the late Guilford Horne, Thomas MacMillan and others of the Coast Line's most faithful engineers in the last half of this century. His first engine was on the old Carolina Central Railroad, but in 1873 he went with the Atlantic Coast Line and had been with that road ever since. He was well known and held in the highest esteem by railroad men and the public generally everywhere. Genial in his disposition, strong in character and with an unwavering fidelity to whatever he believed was right, he drew to himself many strong and devoted friends.

Early in life Mr. Morris married Miss Margaret A. Smith and she with an aged and loving mother, three sons, Messrs. Oscar, Harry and Clifford Morris and Mrs. W. A. Willson, Jr., sons and daughter, survive him. There are also surviving two brothers, Messrs. John E. Morris, of this city, and A. H. Morris, of Savannah, Ga., and one sister, Mrs. Margaret Hodges, of Conway, S. C. All the sorrowing ones have the deepest sympathy of a great many friends.

Mr. Morris was a member of the Knights of Pythias and of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, both of which orders will be represented at the funeral which will be conducted from the late residence, No. 121 South Sixth street, this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

ARE DOWN TO HARD WORK.

Manager Shannon's Team Will be Winner in Eastern Carolina League.

Bussey, the third man to complete the pitching staff of Wilmington's Eastern Carolina Baseball League team, arrived last night and reported to Manager Shannon. He is from the Wilmington, Delaware, team of the Union League, and won nine out of ten games which he pitched this season. He will immediately get down to practice with the Gulls and will be in fine form for the opening games of the series.

Hoey, first baseman, and Dick Smith, third baseman, are the only two members of the team yet to report. They are expected here Saturday. Burt Kite, of the Patterson, N. J., team of the Union League, is expected in today. This afternoon there will be an exhibition game at the new park with a team from the City League in which Johnston will be given a try-out on the slab. Saturday Fort Caswell will be up for another game and will be considerably strengthened, including a new man in the box. Wednesday there will be a game with a picked team from the City League and Webster will be given a chance on the slab. Friday and Saturday the A. & M. team will be down for a couple of games with the professionals.

Police Court Yesterday.

In the police court yesterday A. L. Howard, drunk and down, was fined $5 and costs. Chas. Read, colored, drunk and firing a pistol in the city limits, was fined $5 and costs in each case. Dan Reavis, drunk and disorderly, paid $5 and costs. Ben Robinson, an old colored man, charged with burying a child without the proper permit, was fined $5 and costs. There was nothing criminal in the act and it was more through ignorance than anything else. He was also charged with non-payment of undertaker's license tax, but judgment was suspended. James Howard, drunk, was given 30 days on the roads.

OFFICIAL RESULTS

County Canvassing Boards All Over State Received Prohibition Returns.

RESULT IN NEW HANOVER

No Change in Majority of 161—Back Townships Brought in Surprise in Duplin, Which Goes "Wet."—Reports.

The canvassing boards in the various counties throughout the State met yesterday in their respective county seats and declared officially the results of the prohibition election in North Carolina on Tuesday. These official declarations will be transmitted to Raleigh as soon as possible and tabulated by the State Board after which time the State vote can be officially known.

The New Hanover Board met yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the grand jury room at the Court House and proceeded to canvass the returns from this county. Mr. Preston Cumming was elected chairman and Mr. W. W. Hodges secretary. No change was made in the vote as already published, the official majority against prohibition being 161. Returns from other parts of the State will appear from the following special telegrams received by the Star yesterday and last night:

Southport, N. C., May 28.—The returns from the election here Tuesday were canvassed today by the board. The official vote of Brunswick county is 499 for prohibition and 384 against, a majority of 115 for prohibition.

Rockingham, N. C., May 28.—The official majority for prohibition in Richmond county as declared today by the canvassing board is 242. There were no contests.

Kenansville, N. C., May 28.—The official canvass of the vote in Tuesday's election here today developed a surprise. Instead of a majority of from 400 to 500 for prohibition the county went "wet" by a majority of 17. The majority for prohibition was overbalanced by returns from the eastern townships, which were a powerful offset to the first returns.

Elizabethtown, N. C., May 28—The official vote of Bladen gives prohibition a majority of 784. For prohibition 1,007 votes were cast; against prohibition 223.

Lexington, N. C., May 28.—The official vote in Davidson as canvassed today resulted 1,934 dry and 1,613 wet, making a prohibition majority of 321.

Burgaw, N. C., May 28.—Pender county's official majority for prohibition was 241. The vote was 657 for prohibition and 416 against. Caswell was the banner township for prohibition, 68 for prohibition and only six against.

Wilson, N. C., May 28.—Wilson county's official majority for prohibition is 760. The canvassing board met today and so declared.

Fayetteville, N. C., May 28.—The complete official vote of Cumberland as canvassed by the election board shows a majority of 572 for prohibition. The prohibition vote was 1,524 against 952 for the manufacture and sale of whiskey, making a total vote cast of 2,476.

A DELIGHTFUL DAY.

Three Sunday School Parties at Wrightsville Beach Yesterday.

The Sunday Schools of Fifth Street M. E. Church, the Free Will Baptist Church and the Salvation Army enjoyed a delightful outing at the beach yesterday as the guests of the Tidewater Power Co. The schools went down on special cars of the Tidewater Power Company with Conductor R. S. Haddock in charge and there were nearly 400 young people all told during the day. Messrs. Haddock, Norris and Baird ran the cars and handled the large crowds of young people without the slightest delay or accident.

The Fifth Street Sunday School desires to publicly thank the Tidewater Company for its courtesy in giving the excursion; also Mr. W. H. Ramseur, of the Cuban Exposition Car, for admitting children free to the exhibit and to all others for their courtesies in connection with the affair. The Cuban exposition was exceedingly interesting and instructive to the grown people as well as to the children, and the visit to the car was one of the features of the day at the beach.

Meeting at Wrightsville Beach.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer says: "Cotton mill men in this section and elsewhere in the State are manifesting considerable interest in the approaching meetinf of the Cotton Manufacturer's Association of North Carolina, which is to be held at Wrightsville Beach, June 11th and 12th. The headquarters of the association will be at the Seashore Hotel, at which place special rates and desirable accommodations have been secured. The probabilities are that the attendance will be very large.

TAG DAY NEXT WEDNESDAY

Unique Method of Helping Forward Laudable Work of Associated Charities—Bright New Fad Popular Next Week.

Have you ever heard of Tag Day? Of course, you haven't. It's a fad that has been quite popular in other cities and unless you get onto to all the points of this new game, you'll find yourself quite out of the swim next Wednesday. That's to be Tag Day in Wilmington.

On that day no man, woman or child, good, bad or indifferent, will be licensed to make his or her appearance on the streets unless "he, she or it" has the official tag displayed. The cops maybe won't mind, but then somehow you'll feel like you are one separate and apart unless you are officially tagged.

Everybody knows what a good work the Asciated Charities has and is doing in the City of Wilmington. This is known and read of all men. Well, that's just the point. The treasury is just now a little short of funds in the city and elsewhere. Next Wednesday, June 3rd, has been officially proclaimed as Tag Day in Wilmington and these little evidences of your appreciation of "man's humanity to man" are going to be placed within the reach of every man, woman and child, however small his or her contribution may be, and everyone is going to be expected to show by being officially tagged that he or she has contributed a mite to this worthy undertaking.

In Memphis, Nashville, Louisville, Richmond, Knoxville, Suffolk and many other cities, this method of raising funds for charity has been tried and the people of those cities have been delighted with the plan of making contributions so general. Wilmington is not to be outclassed in this respect and boxes in charge of the superintendents and various assistants will be placed at convenient stations throughout the city, so that everyone may provide themselves with one or more of these tags. Everybody must wear at least one and to appear without one will be decidedly out of the fashion. For each contribution, however small, deposited in the box, the donor will be entitled to a tag. Everybody is expected to drop in his or her penny, nickel, dime, quarter, half dollar or dollar and none but the guilty will escape. There'll be no misers in town that day and Tag Day promises to be a great success. Everybody must get into the great American game of tag.

FIREMEN'S MEMORIAL.

Committee Appointed to Have in Charge All the Arrangements.

In response to the call of Chief Chas. Schnibben a goodly number of the members of the old volunteer firemen and active members of the paid department met last night at Fire headquarters and discussed at length the plans for the annual firemen's memorial service to be held the second Sunday in June.

Mr. Timothy Donlan, of the Howard Relief Fire Engine Co., was made chairman of the meeting, and Mr. Jas. H. Taylor, Jr., of the Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co., was requested to act as secretary. Chief Chas. Schnibben explained the object of the meeting and the matter was discussed at some length with the result that a committee of arrangements was appointed as follows: Mr. T. Donlan ,chairman; Mr. Jas. H. Taylor, Jr., secretary; Mr. A. D. Wessell, of the Howard Relief Company; Mr. J. O. Brown, of the Fifth Ward Hook and Ladder Co., and Mr. F. A. Lord, of the Wilmington Hook & Ladder Co., all of the old volunteers, and Messrs. W. A. French, W. P. Monroe, P. N. Fick, L. Freimuth, W. A. Canady and J. N. Mohr, of the active department. This committee was authorized to secure an orator for the memorial and a place for the observance. A meeting of the committee will be held at Fire headquarters tonight and any person who can furnish the committee with names of deceased volunteer firemen who have died will confer a favor upon the committee by so doing.

Ocean View Hotel Open.

The Ocean View Hotel at Wrightsville Beach opened yesterday and the indications are for a very successful season. Many improvements have been made during the year and its splendid location with reference to other points of interest on the beach commends it strongly to those who go to the seashore. The best of cuisine and prompt attention at all times have made the Ocean View a favorite with all who have ever stopped there. It will be under the same management as heretofore.

Feature Film at Bijou.

The beautiful story of Enoch Arden, famous in legend and in song, will be told graphically and realistically in high-class motion pictures at the Bijou today. This is one of the feature films of the season and is bound to draw large crowds. It will be on for the one day only and all patrons are advised to see it at once. The illustrated song will be "Mary Blaine." The admission is five cents and the show is "never out and never over." The Bijou is the place.

IN SUPERIOR COURT

AN ALL DAY HEARING

Nearly all day in the Superior Court yesterday was taken up with the completion of the hearing of the case of the Pittsburg Lumber Company against Z. P. Rowe, formerly a timber agent for the plaintiff at Smith's Landing in Pender county, the issue involved being one of fraud in retaining certain money handled by him for the company.

The plaintiff had rested when court took a recess Wednesday evening and a large part of the morning was taken up yesterday with the hearing of the testimony for the defendant. At one stage of the proceedings the jury was sent out of the court room and Judge Neal suggested in view of the fact that at a former trial of the cause a judgment had been rendered against the defendant for the $623.23 that he agree to pay this amount without having the jury to pass upon the question of fraud which was really the only matter at issue in the trial then in hearing. Counsel agreed to pay the amount, but refused to pay the costs, whereupon the trial proceeded. Messrs. Meares & Ruark appeared for the plaintiff and Messrs. Stevens, Beasley & Weeks for the defendant. After argument during the afternoon the jury retired with the issue at 4:30 o'clock and after deliberating until 6:20, it came out and answered the issue as follows:

"Did the defendant fraudulently mis-apply the money, $623.23 to his (the defendant's) use?" Answer, "Yes."

The verdict was taken by Deputy Clerk W. N. Harriss by consent of the counsel on both sides, and the official entry will be made on the docket and probably an appeal taken when court meets at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

This morning the court will take up the damage suit of Capt. J. A. Burriss against the City of Wilmington in which the plaintiff is suing for $10,000 damages for permanent injuries alleged to have been received three years ago by falling into an excavation left open without lights or other signs of warning near his residence on South Front street. The case has been tried one time and a mistrial had. Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy and Jos. W. Little, Esq., appear for the plaintiff and City Attorney Marsden Bellamy, Jr., and ex-Judge E. K. Bryan for the defendant. It is expected that at least two days will be required to complete the case.

The following cases were continued yesterday: Z. W. Whitehead against A. C. L. Railroad. C. H. Bonham against L. M. Bryant. F. M. Barker, agent, against D. Kalille. Oliver Smith Co., against W. R. Griffin. Eliza J. Rogers against the Seaboard Air Line. F. W. Stock & Son against Murchison National Bank. Murchison National Bank against Dunn Oil Mills and J. D. Barnes. Mary E. Irving and others against Pembroke Jones and others. Wm. Waterall & Co., against Monarch Paint Co.

In the case of J. E. G. Brown against J. K. Taylor, a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff and judgment for divorce was given in the case of King Brown against Mary Brown.

BENJ. A. CAPEL DEAD.

Many friends will regret to learn of the death of Mr. Benjamin A. Capel, which occurred yesterday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of his son, Mr. T. J. Capel, a well known young Wilmingtonian, No. 410 Nun street. Mr. Capel had been in poor health for some time and came to Wilmington from his home in Bennettsville, S. C., about two weeks ago with the hope that the change would be of benefit to him. He suffered with heart trouble and his death last night was rather sudden and came as a sad blow to members of the family and friends. He was born in Richmond county, Feb. 21st, 1846, and was, therefore, in the 63rd year of his age. He had been a resident of Bennettsville for forty years and was held in the highest esteem there. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Cora Capel, of Bennettsville; Mrs. Stella Malpass, of Batesburg, S. C., and one son, Mr. T. J. Capel, of Wilmington. They have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

The remains of Mr. Capel will be taken to Bennettsville on the 5:15 train this morning and the funeral will be conducted there by Rev. Mr. Jones, of the First Baptist Church, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

INJUSTICE TO MR. HORNE.

"The campaign of the Democratic nomination for Governor grows more and more disgusting. It is making strength faster for the Republican party in North Carolina than anything the Democrats have ever done before. There are three good men aspiring for the nomination, yet the supporters of one malign the others just as if they were enemies instead of belonging to the same party, and vice versa. Some want to make the support of a certain man a test of Democracy, and some think everybody is a rascal who does not agree with them. The campaign for the nomination is a reflection on the party by which the enemies to Democracy are profiting. If the State convention was a month or two further off we believe the people would rebuke such a campaign by nominating a man who is not in the race. It will be much the safer course for the party to take at Charlotte."

The above, which we take from the Greenville Reflector, does one of the candidates—Mr. Horne—a great injustice, and we think the editor of that paper, on reflection, will admit that it does. As to his criticism of the other two candidates we have nothing to say, but in behalf of Mr. Horne we must protest against the strictures of the Reflector in so far as they are made applicable to him. We do not think, however, that the Reflector intended its remarks to apply to him, but the general reader will not think of that, but will apply that paper's censure to all three candidates. The editor of the Reflector cannot but admit that so far Mr. Horne has conducted a clean campaign—one as clean as is his record for honesty and fairness in his business dealings. Neither he nor the managers of his campaign have made any attack on or attempted to take any unfair advantage of either of his oppoents. They have neither started any reports detrimental to them or aided in giving greater publicity to any that have been put afloat. Mr. Horne is not the kind of man to use such means to accomplish a purpose. We are sure he would a thousand times rather lose the nomination for Governor than to secure it by means against which could be laid the charge of even the semblance of unfairness and underhand work. Mr. Horne stands before the people and asks for their support on his record, and does not stoop to seeking the position through attempts to injure the character or besmirch the reputation of his opponents. He believes that there should be the same honest dealing in politics that there is among honest men in the business affairs of life.

TAFT TO RETIRE JULY 1ST.

The news comes from Washington that Mr. Taft will retire from the Cabinet July 1st. This means that he and the President are perfectly sure of his nomination. We suppose it also means that they are equally sure of his election. Well, if Mr. Bryan is to be his opponent, we reckon they may well be as sure of the latter as of the former. It is said the President has already made his selection for Mr. Taft's successor. Who it is has not yet been given to the public. It is said that after his retirement and until his successor has thoroughly familiarized himself with the duties of the office Mr. Taft will continue to advise the latter and the President on matters of importance which come before the War Department. Of course, there will be much speculation as to whom Mr. Roosevelt will appoint and there will be many reports sent out that this man or that man has been offered the place. One thing can be counted on—it is too big an office for the President to give to a Southern man.

AGAINST INSTRUCTED DELEGATES.

We are glad to see more newspapers in the State advocating the sending of an uninstructed delegation to the Denver convention. The last one to express such views which has come to our notice is the Clarkton Express. In its issue of this weak is says:

"We believe it would be best for the Democratic Convention in Charlotte to send an uninstructed delegation to Denver. Send the very best men we have and let them vote as it seemeth best. They might know more about casting the vote after getting there than now."

The Express is clearly right. The best men should be selected as delegates and they should be allowed to exercise their own judgment. After getting to the convention they will surely know better what is to the interest of the party than do the men who, some time before the convening of the national convention, assemble in their District and State conventions. Every paper in the State which opposes an instructed delegation should not fail to give expression to its opinion so the politicians can get the views of the people.

PASSING AWAY OF OLD CONFEDERATES.

The death of General Stephen D. Lee which occurred yesterday will bring sorrow to thousands of old Confederate veterans. The death of General Lee leaves living only one Confderate Lieutenant General, General W. H. Stewart. The old soldiers are fast falling out of ranks and it is sad to think that in a very few years more they will be all gone—none left who formed the grand armies of Lee and Jackson and the other world-renowned heroes of the Confederacy. But memory of an veneration for them will ever remain in the minds and hearts of the people of the South.

Mr. Kitchin admits that in 1898 in the State convention he favored that body making a proposition for fusion with the Populist party "in accordance with the relative strength of the two parties." With him he says were Hon. R. A. Doughton and Editor Josephus Daniels. He cannot deny, then, that he, at that time at least, was a fusionist and willing for his party to accept certain populistic principles. The question is: Has he changed his views since then?

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The delegates from New Hanover County, North Carolina, have been "instructed to cast the solid vote of the county against any and all efforts to send an instructed delegation to the Democratic National Convention." The resolution so instructing them was offered by our old friend W. H. Bernard, of the Wilmington Star, and seconded by Mr. Gerrit Walker. It was the right resolution at the right time, and when the State Convention assembles at Charlotte we may be sure that there will be somebody in the Convention courageous enough to make the wishes of New Hanover County known.—News and Courier.

—In all we say or expect to say against the nomination of the Hon. W. J. Bryan for the Presidency, we are saying before the convention. That's the time to say. If he should be the nominee, he will get our loyal support. He is an able man, a broad-minded man and we believe an honest man. He is one of the world's greatest statesmen, and ablest men, no doubt, and we have said as much many a time before. The question is, who can best unite the party and carry the heaviest vote and before the convention is the time to discuss that point. Clinton Democrat.

—It appears to be the general programme of the New England cotton mills, with the acquiescene of the operatives, to cut wages and resume full time. The number of operatives whose wages hae been reduced is now estimated at 170,000, the reduction being 17.94 per cent. in Fall River and generally less elsewhere . Even the M. C. D. Borden Mills, always among the last to take any such action, have fallen in with the wage-reduction movement. In this and every other manner it is sought to reduce production cost. New England mills will soon be turning out goods at nearly a normal rate. This being so, why should the South, for the benefit of markets in which all share alike, take upon itself the whole burden of curtailment.—Charlotte Observer.

—Referring to the Chronicle's statement that Colonel Bryan declined to speak to Senators Simmons and Overman because they favor an uninstructed delegation to Denver. The Charleston News and Courier thinks that if Colonel Bryan should be nominated at Denver and elected, Colonel Bryan would probably look to Josephus Daniels, of The Raleigh News and Observer, instead of to the Senators from this State as to Federal appointments in North Carolina. "In our State," says The News and Courier, "the referee in such matters is not either of the Senators from South Carolina, but Captain Capers, a partisan Republican office-holder, now residing in Washington, and Booker Washington, of Alabama." What The News and Courier suggests might happen in this State, would happen in fact, in the event Colonel Bryan should ever be elected Prsident. The North Carolina patronage would be dispensed by a close corporation, and broad-minded men like Simmons and Overman would have nothing to do with it. There is a set in this State that has been pie hungry since 1896, each man having had his eye on his particular piece of pie since that time, and we would like to see anybody else get it—Charlotte Chronicle.

—If Premier Asquith believes that his scheme for the payment of old age pensions will please everybody he is apt to find himslf mistaken. It certainly will not satisfy the Socialists for the reason that it places the age at which the pension is to be granted too high, 70 years, an age which few workingmen, comparatively speaking, attain and because the amount granted, $1.25 weekly, is considered too trifling. What the Socialists want is a large old-age pension to begin in the neighborhood of fifty years, or earlier if possible. That the Socialists and Laborities are not disposed to be moderate in their demands was shown by their ultimatum to Mr. Asquith that they would repudiate any measure which contemplated the workingman making any contribution to the pension fund. In other words, it must come solely from the Treasury. Accordingly the plan advocated by the British Premier does not resemble the German old-age pension system in any respect. The German law, which has been carefully worked out, provides for the contribution of one-third of the pension from the accumulations of the workingmen's contributions, one-third from the contributions of employers, and one-third contributed by the public Treasury. The conservative and taxpaying classes in Great Britain are pretty certain to find fault with the proposed old-age pensions on the ground that if carried to the logical conclusion the pension system would swamp the public Treasury, compel a material increase in the direct tax and saddle the country with a burden worse than the cost of armaments.—New Orleans Picayune.

—Asheville, N. C., May 27.—Reports received here today are to the effect that one of the severest storms in the history of Buncombe county, passed over the Reems Creek, Flat Creek and Ivy sections of the county yesterday afternoon, doing thousands of dollars worth of damage to lands by washing the crops. The storm was little short of a cloudburst. Reems Creek went 18 inches higher than it had ever been known to go before. The abutments of a new steel bridge across the creek were washed away, while a mill near Weaverville was damaged $2,000. The creek rose rapidly after the storm had passed and as a result of this an old couple, Mr. and Mrs. McCanless, of Baker's Mill, came near losing their lives. Mr. and Mrs. McCanless went out to view their garden to see what damage had been done, when the waters rose and cut them off from their house. They were marooned on a strip of land scarcely six feet square, where they were forced to remain in water until near midnight last night. Efforts to rescue them were futile. Had the creek risen much further they would probably have been drowned.

The lad had been in the habit as many another boy has of catching on moving trains and riding a short distance then jumping off. Yesterday while the train No. 15, being drawn by engine No. 13, Mr. Ed Hancock was engineer and was shifting cars at the upper end of the yard near the Riverside store. Willie was located between two cars and appeared to have lost his grip and fallen on the ties and was struck by the projection of the wheel and knocked down off the ties. He was not dragged nor multilated to any degree, death having been caused as stated in coronors verdict by shock producing internal hemorrhage. No blame whatever is attached to the railroad or employees. The latter had repeatedly warned the boy of his danger and have tried to keep him from catching on trains in this way.

The Awful Carib Fish.

A traveler in Venezuela gives an interesting description of the fish of the Orinoco country. He says the party several times came in contact with the carib fish, which are the most ferocious inhabitants of the water known. The fish are not over fourteen inches long, but they travel in schools. Their teeth are three cornered. Any living object which attracts their attention is attacked with fury. Mr. Thompson tells of an Indian woman who entered the water to fill a bucket. She was attacked by the fish and reached shore only to die in fifteen minutes. The flesh was literally torn from her body. Mr. Dart, who was with Mr. Thompson, caught one of the fish and pulled it upon the bank. He held the carib under his foot while he pointed at the peculiar teeth with his finger. With a quick movement the carib flopped out from under Mr. Dart's foot and seized him by the finger, cutting that member to the bone. The fish frequently have been known to bite ordinary fishhooks in two.

The Man Who Blushed

By C. B. LEWIS

Copyright, 1906, by P. C. Eastment

In announcing in a very impressive manner to all applicants that she kept a fashionable boarding house Mrs. Barnes did not exactly mean that members of the Four Hundred and stray multimillionaires fell over each other to be numbered among her guests. She meant that it was a homelike place for stenographers, typewriters, bank clerks and floorwalkers of department stores to take advantage of, but they must at the same time realize to the fullest extent the privileges permitted them. These privileges, so far as any one ever discovered, consisted of a latchkey and a piano. Any boarder who dared do so could also take a seat in the parlor of an evening. He or she could also use the gas until midnight and enjoy one clean towel per day.

The girl with the golden hair, as they called Miss Bierce, the stenographer, had been at this fashionable boarding house a week, when "Greenbacks," as they called the bank clerk, arrived. His name, as given to the others at the dinner table by Mrs. Barnes, was Tillman.

The stenographer and the bank clerk had had two days to size each other up in when the actress arrived. The stenographer, as it transpired, had a fad. It was physiognomy. It also transpired that the bank clerk had a fad. It was deduction. After about ten furtive looks at Mr. Tillman the stenographer discovered that he was a young man of weak character and easily tempted. The shape of his forehead told her that he would not be honest under great temptation.

Miss Dorothy Delamar, the actress, whose real name was Catharine Briggs, had no fads. All she wanted was to climb to the top of her profession. As she had just got through playing leading lady in a barnstorming company that had failed on the road after being out three weeks, she felt that she was getting along and that it needed only a sudden jar to make her a public favorite and bring a dozen managers in autos to the house.

She was planning how best to bring about that jar when she arrived. Miss Delamar was a hustler. She had hustled around and provided herself with seven rhinestone rings and a pair of earrings and a sunburst out of the same barrel. The landlady estimated the value of the jewels at $2,500. Miss Delamar corrected her by making the figure $1,000 more. At her first dinner in the house she wore the whole outfit.

One morning the actress appeared in the dining room in a state of great perturbation. In fact, she was gasping for breath and on the point of fainting away. She had been robbed, she announced when she could get her voice. Some one had entered her room and stolen her bag of diamonds. While everybody got to his feet she sat down and went into hysterics.

While she was engaged in this the stenographer looked at the bank clerk, and for a moment they gazed straight into each other's eyes. Then he blushed and dropped his. This was enough for her. She alone of the dozen boarders seemed to remember that he had come in late. He had lagged behind to enter the actress' room and steal her jewelry. That blush betrayed his guilt to the stenographer. She almost expected him to throw the chamois bag on the table and ask to be given five years in state prison.

Not until after the boarders had scattered from breakfast was it suggested that all submit to be searched, and then it was too late. There were eighteen boarders, including the actress. One of the other seventeen must be guilty. There were seven rooms on her floor, and the natural inference was that it was some one on her floor that had robbed her. All seven occupied positions of trust, and to suspect them was rather perilous. While Miss Delamar sent for a reporter Mrs. Barnes sent for a detective. Both arrived at the same time. While the reporter went in for a "scoop" the detective held two or three interviews, looked wise and as he got outdoors winked at himself and went hunting for a glass of beer.

Some fifty different times that day Miss Delamar told the story of the robbery and grew faint. The bag of diamonds had been on her dresser. She was out about fifteen minutes. Her door was shut, but not locked. Her future career did not depend solely upon these diamonds, thank heaven, but unless they were recovered she would not be able to play certain leading parts.

When the evening paper came out with its account of "Bold Robbery—An Actress Loses $25,000 Worth of Diamonds In a Boarding House," Miss Delamar fainted away, and after her recovery her moaning was pitiful to hear. It was so pitiful that the stenographer decided to temporize no longer. Ever since she looked the bank clerk in the eyes and noticed his blush she had been convinced of his guilt. She had said nothing to any one, and she rather expected that he would seek an early opportunity of restoring the bag and thus avoid state prison. He didn't restore it at lunchtime nor during the half hour before dinner, when he could have done so.

That pitiful moaning started Miss Bierce upstairs. She knocked at the door of the bank clerk's room, and it was opened to her. Standing in the hall and speaking in a low but decided voice, she said:

"Mr. Tillman, it is a pity and a shame!"

"Beg pardon, but I don't quite understand," he replied.

"I am referring to the robbery this morning."

"Ah! Have the detectives any clew?"

"I don't know, but I have. The robber is here in the house this minute. Should he restore the diamonds I shall say nothing; if he refuses I shall betray his identity."

"Dear me, but you know the rascal, then?"

"I have known him ever since I looked into his eyes at the breakfast table and he blushed."

"And did you wish to give me his name in confidence?" softly asked the bank clerk.

His brazenness angered the girl, and with hot cheeks she looked him square in the eyes and replied:

"He stands before me, sir."

"Indeed! Miss Bierce, will you kindly inform me how you came to suspect me?"

"First, from my study of physiognomy; second, from your blush when I looked at you."

"Miss Bierce, if I hadn't blushed and dropped my eyes when you looked at me across the breakfast table would you have suspected me of this robbery?" asked the bank clerk after a moment.

"I don't think so."

"Then it was unfortunate for me. As a matter of fact, I have had that habit for years when guilty of anything and have tried in vain to break myself of it."

"And you will restore the diamonds at once?" she eagerly asked.

"You have depended on physiognomy in this case, Miss Bierce. I have depended on deduction. Miss Delamar is an actress out of money and an engagement. Deduction: She must stand Mrs. Barnes off and bring her name before the public. She adorns herself with what she calls $3,500 worth of jewelry. Deduction: Rhinestones. She sends for a reporter instead of a detective. Deduction: Sensation. The detective who was here today asked where she bought the jewels, and she failed to remember the name of the house. Deduction: She didn't want to."

"Sir, you have become brazen again!" exclaimed the stenographer.

"Last night," he continued as if he hadn't heard her, "I sat here in my room for half an hour without a light and the door slightly ajar. Hearing a noise in the hall, I quietly looked out and saw a lady standing on the sill of the hall window. Deduction: Up to snuff. I think she pinned something to the inside of the curtains, near the top. I made sure it was Miss Delamar. Deduction: Seek, and ye shall find. Suppose we seek."

Miss Bierce followed the bank clerk down the hall to the window. Close up to the pole she saw the chamois bag and motioned him to reach it down.

"No use to have any trouble about it," he said as he placed the bag in her hand. "Call her up to your room and tell her that you found her jewels where she had mislaid them. You are something of a physiognomist. Study her face when you produce the bag. That's all, Miss Bierce."

"But, Mr. Tillman, I am overwhelmed with shame and mortification, and can you ever"—

"There, there! I blushed and caused you to think I was guilty. Good night, Miss Bierce!"

The Pepper Plant.

The most common and widely used of all spices is pepper. It is a native of the East Indies, but is now cultivated in various part of the tropical belt of America. The plant is a climber and has a smooth stem, sometimes twelve feet long. The fruit is about the size of a pea and when ripe is a bright red color. In cultivation the plant is supported by poles. In some localities small trees are used instead of poles, for the best pepper is grown in a certain degree of shade. The plant is propagated by cuttings, comes into bearing three or four years after it is set and yields two crops annually for about twelve years. When a few of the berries turn from green to red all of them are gathered, because if they were allowed to ripen any longer they would be less pungent. To fit them for the market they are dried, separated by rubbing with the hands and cleaned by winnowing. Pepper was known to the ancients. In the middle ages it was one of the most costly of spices, a pound of it being a royal present.

Lard Eaters Should Stop and Think!

There must be something in all this Pure Food Talk. We hear the term "Pure Food" on every hand—Pure Food Shows, Pure Food Laws and Pure Food agitation of all kinds. It simply means that people are awakening to the fact that that they cannot be too careful about the purity of their food and the ingredients which enter into its making.

One of the most fruitful sources of indigestion in the past has been the use of lard. Nine times out of ten, the lard which you buy is not fit for any human stomach. Its source is suggestive of uncleanliness and unhealthfulness. It makes greasy, indigestible food, and food which is bound eventually to interfere with digestion.

COTTOLENE is the only rational frying and shortening medium. Wherever exhibited in competition with other cooking fats, it has always been granted highest award. It contains no hog-fat, but is a pure vegetable product, made from the choicest cotton seed oil, and is every bit as pure and healthful as the purest olive oil.

For frying and shortening, you should use nothing but COTTOLENE. It is more healthful than lard; it will go farther than lard, one-third less being required; and it will make your food more appetizing and digestible.

Buy a pail of COTTOLENE to-day, use it according to directions, and you will never go back to lard.

Cottolene is Guaranteed We hereby authorize your grocer to refund your money in case you're not pleased after having given COTTOLENE a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk COTTOLENE is packed in pails with a patent air-tight top, to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome; also to prevent it from absorbing the disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

While coming over the bar Wednesday afternoon she struck on the Cape Fear bar and remained there until yesterday morning's high tide when she floated without assistance. She will proceed as soon as the slight necessary repairs are made.

The Anselm was before reported ashore 6 1-2 miles north of English Cay, on the British Honduras coast, being laden at that time with cargo of fruit. Wreckers were sent for and she was floated April 27th and proceeded to Belize to fit out. After being made ready to proceed to New York, she ran aground on the Cape Fear bar as she was coming into this port for supplies as stated. She tied up yesterday afternoon at the Atlantic Coast Line wharves, Capt. Logan reporting to Messrs. Sprunt & Son, who are in communication with her owners and agents.

DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL AFFAIR.

Annual Dinner of St. James Brotherhood Last Night at Beach.

The annual dinner of the Brotherhood of Saint James, at Wrightsville Beach last night, is described by quite everyone in attendance as having been a charming success from every point of view. The dinner was served in abundance and in most elegant style at the Summer cafe of John Heritos, the well known Greek caterer, near Lumina, and covers were laid for 42 guests. The cafe was superbly decorated for the occasion and perhaps no finer spread has ever been laid before a company of banqueters at the beach.

Mr. W. N. Harriss, director of the Brotherhood, presided as toastmaster and was ingenious and graceful in the performance of the duties of that exacting position. Among the responses, all happy and from men of infinite jest, were by Mr. C. N. Evans, president of the Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian Church; Judge Walter H. Neal, Rev. W. E. Cox, rector of S. John's parish; George L. Peschau, Esq., Mr. George Rountree, Rev. R. W. Hogue, Cameron F. MacRae, Esq., Messrs. S. M. Boatwright, Milton Calder, J. Allen Taylor, R. E. Tapp, W. G. W. Krafft, Greene Fenley and others.

Quite the most pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation to Rev. Mr. Hogue, the beloved rector of the parish, of a strong testimonial from the men of his parish, pledging the united support of the Brotherhood to him in his work in Wilmington; heartily approving of his course in the late prohibition campaign and in his endeavors for humanity in every way. This was in view of Mr. Hogue's consideration recently of a call to go elsewhere and there can be no doubt but that the strong endorsement from the men of the Brotherhood will do much to induce him to remain where he is. Several of the speakers adverted to this phase of the meeting and spoke in terms of the highest regard for Mr. Hogue, the testimonial itself being presented by Mr. Cameron F. McRae.

The meeting was the largest and most enthusiastic of the Brotherhood ever held and the members and their guests remained at the festive board until nearly 12 o'clock last night.

The many friends of Mr. C. P. He, of course, had to decline the position as he returns to Wilmington June 15th to take up his practice here. The tender of the position to him is regarded as a very high compliment to his skill and ability in his chosen profession.

Mr. Earle Dickinson Injured.

Late yesterday afternoon as Mr. Earle Dickinson on his bicycle was turning the corner at I Shrier's store, a street car going south on Front street suddenly ran into the curve at the junction and knocked him from his wheel, inflicting painful but not serious injuries about the shoulders. Mr. Dickinson was riding a little ahead and parallel with the car. The switch was turned for some reason and the car suddenly sheered off to one side and the fender struck Mr. Dickinson's bicycle, smashing it up considerably and throwing Mr. Dickinson off. He was able to go to his brother's office where a physician was summoned and found that his injuries were not serious but quite painful.

COTTON EXCHANGES.

Recommendations in the Report of the Commissioner of Corporations.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 28.—Herbert Knox Smith, Commissioner of Corporations, today made public the second and third parts of his report on the operation of cotton exchanges of the United States dealing with the "classification of cotton" and the "range of grades deliverable on contract."

The commissioner treats of conditions on the New York and New Orleans exchanges, the only two markets in this country doing a future business. He has found that the methods of the two are radically different and that criticisms of both have been made. He finds that in New York there is over grading and over classification of cotton, while in New Orleans there appears to be undergrading. The commissioner urges the adoption of a system of uniform grades if possible, thus simplifying business and putting an end to serious abuses.

The report considers at length the criticisms directed at the large number of grades now deliverable on future contracts, and Commissioner Smith says that from the importance of the exchanges of New York and New Orleans and their effect on the cotton industry it is desirable that consideration be given to practical lines of improvement in methods.

RUSSIAN AGENT ATTACKED.

In His Residence in Teheran and Badly Wounded.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

St. Petersburg, May 29.—Despatches from Teheran received at the foreign office tonight state that an armed attack was made on the official residence in that city of the Russian financial agent, M. Ostrogradski, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning and that the Russian official was dangerously wounded.

Three unknown men made their way into his residence, and encountering M. Ostrogradski fired a number of shots at him, one of the bullets striking him in the loin. Though badly wounded M. Ostrogradski managed to fight off his assailants who continued to fire at him.

In the exchange of shots one of M. Ostrogradski's assailants, whose name at present is not known, was shot dead. They then made a pretense to search for valuables, but fled at the first approach of help.

MUST DELIVER THE LIQOUR.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

Richmond, Va., May 28.—In the Roanoke liquor cases involving the refusal of the Southern Express Company to handle liquor consigned by Roanoke shippers to parties in "dry" towns on the line of the Norfolk & Western Railroad and in which an appeal was made to the State Corporation Commission, it was decided today that the ordinances of the "Dry" towns were ineffective and that the Express Company under the general law is required to transport liquor legally sold to customers in such towns. The express company is commanded to accept from licensed retail dealers of Roanoke and from all others similarly situated all intoxicating liquors lawfully sold and to transport them to "dry" towns and deliver them to the consignees.

With the defendant's own story on the witness stand late last night the trial in Jersey City of Theodore S. Whitmore, of Brooklyn, charged with having murdered his wife and thrown her body into the Lamp swamp in Harrison, N. J., came to a close so far as the taking of testimony is concerned.

METHODIST CONFERENCCE.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Baltimore, May 28.—Adverse action today by the Methodist Episcopal General Conference on an apparently unimportant motion is said tonight to have back of it determination on the part of a large number o fthe delegates to bury the whole question of whether or not paragraph 248 of the Book of Discipline, which deals with amusements, shall be changed.

The motion in question was that a time be set for the consideration of the report of the committee which has had the question under consideration. The motion was lost by a decisive vote. Nothing was said in explanation other than that the report should not be given precedence over other important matters. Tonight, however, it is said that there is a determined purpose not to permit the matter of amusements to be discussed on the floor of the conference at all if it is possible to prevent it. A change will be in line with the suggestion contained in the Episcopal address and while it is desired not to run to consider the bishops there is a very strong sentiment against any change in paragraph 248, which will simply remain in force as it now stands if the matter can be kept from the conference during its remaining business sessions.

The assignment of bishops in the various Episcopal residences was reported to the committee on the Episcopacy tonight b ya special committee of nineteen and adopted by the full committee during a meeting that lasted until nearly midnight.

Bishop William F. Anderson was assigned to Chattanooga, Tenn., and Bishop Thomas B. Neely was assigned to New Orleans.

STORM IN CHICAGO.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Chicago, May 28. — A gale which reached a greater velocity than has been recorded in Chicago for seven years tonight proceede an electrical storm which did considerable damage in various parts of the city. Several persons were injured by debris blown from buildings, and a church and a half a score of other buildings were struck by lightning.

The greatest single instance of damage occurred when an 80-foot chimney was blown from the roof of an 8-story building at 119 LaSalle street. The chimney fell across a court, breaking windows in the Brevoort Hotel from the fourteenth to the sixth stories and also crashed through a skylight in a restaurant adjoining. One man was severely cut by broken glass and scores of guests in the hotel and patrons of the restaurant were thrown into a panic. The wind and rain crippled telegraphic and telephone wires temporarily.

DEATH OF GENERAL LEE

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Vicksburg, Miss., May 28.—Lieutenant General Stephen D. Lee, of Columbus, Miss., Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, answered his last roll call today. Cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of his death.

General Lee died at the official residence of the Vicksburg National Park Commission, of which he was a member. He was stricken last Friday night, consequent upon an exhaustive speech welcoming four regiments of Iowa and Wisconsin soldiers whom he had fought upon the Vicksburg battlefield 45 years ago.

The emotion and excitement overmastered him and finally he became ill enough to take to his bed. He rallied alternately since then and yesterday passed into a state of coma, growing gradually weaker.

His body will be taken on a special train tomorrow to Columbus, Miss. The funeral probably will be held Saturday.

General Lee's sister, Mrs. James Harrison, of Columbus, was at his bedside at the time of his death. Blewitt Lee, a son, who is general attorney of the Illinois Central at Chicago, is en route for Vicksburg.

President Roosevelt, who was a great admirer of General Lee, was among the first to send condolences.

An incident in connection with General Lee's career not generally known is the fact that he directed the firing of the first shot of the Civil War. He was one of the two officers of the South Carolina troops sent by General Beauregard to demand the surrender of Fort Sumter and upon refusal of this demand he ordered the nearest battery to fire on the fort.

At the time of his death, although not the ranking officer of the Confederacy, General Lee was Commander-in-Chief of the Confederate Veterans. Lieutenant General A. P. Stewart of Chattanooga is ranking officer, but on account of his infirmities he has not taken an active part in the affairs of the organization for many years.

General Lee was one of the South Carolina Lees. He was born in that State in 1833. He received his appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point and graduatted at that institution, receiving his commission in the artillery. At the outbreak of the war between the States General Lee resigned his commission in the United States army and entered the Confderate service. He served with the Confederate army in Virginia until after the battle of Antietam when he was made a brigadier general and sent to Vicksburg.

General Lee played a prominent part in the siege of Vicksburg, and, following the fall of that city, was taken prisoner. He was later exchanged and promoted to the rank of major general and ordered to the Southwest. He was subsequently assigned to the army of the Tennessee with the rank of Lieutenant General and served until the close of the war.

"In compliance with Section 2, Article 3, of the by-laws of the United Confederate Veterans Organization I hereby assume command of the Federation.

"The staff of the late Commander-in-Chief is hereby continued as the staff of the present lieutenant commanding and will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

"Once more in the mysterious dispensation of an all-wise God the survivors of the Confederate Armies are called upon to mourn the loss of another great leader in the person of the Commander-in-Chief of this Federation.

"General Stephen D. Lee, a Lieutenant General in the Confederate army and the general commanding the United Confederate Veterans, breathed his last this morning at 6 o'clock in Vicksburg, Miss., after an illness of a week.

"He was born in the city of Charleston, S. C., on September 22, 1833, and had nearly reached his 75th birthday.

"He graduated from West Point Military Academy in the class in 1854 in which were many who took leading parts in the great war of the sixties. On the breaking out of hostilities he was at the front and as an aide on the staff of General Beauregard he bore the information to Colonel Anderson that fire would be opened on Fort Sumter on the morning of April 12, 1861, which were the first guns of the great conflict. Thence, his promotion was most marked and rapid, passing through all grades till commissioned Lieutenant General June 23, 1864. He enjoyed the unique distinction of earning the highest commendation in each arm of the service, and so great was the value placed on his ability by the President of the Confederate States, that in recognizing his promotion from one arm to another, Mr. Davis expressed regret that he could not serve on both, as the position from which he was transferred would feel the great loss of his presence.

"Since the war, in addition to educating the minds of the Young South, he, as was the case with his predecessor in the United Confederate Veterans, he bent his energies to healingthe wounds left by the conflict; and there is something peculiarly touching in the fact that his death was brought about by his efforts in this direction. On Friday of last week he threw himself with enthusiastic whole-heartedness into the entertainment of the visitors who were at the park in Vicksburg, but he became overheated, which brought about complications which resulted in death.

"As a citizen, with a character as pure as snow; as a Confederate soldier as a husband, father and brother, measuring up to all the requirements; as a soldier, with a record equal to the best; an officer and consistent member of the church—he lived a blameless life and has gone to his reward universally loved and respected, leaving ano ther great break in the ranks of the U. C. V.

"In order that proper arrangements may be made for paying due honors to the illustrious dead, Major General Robert Lawry, commanding the Mississippi division of the United Confederate Veterans, is hereby detailed to take charge of the funeral programme and control all details incident thereto."

All arrangements for the funeral of General Lee were completed tonight and an order bearing upon this was issued by Adjutant General Mickle from the headquarters of the Veterans at New Orleans, at the direction of General W. L. Cabell, of Dallas, Texas.

General Mickle left New Orleans for Columbus, Miss., where the funeral will be held next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The funeral train will leave Vicksburg tomorrow at 7 o'clock, arriving at Columbus later in the day, where it will be met by several thousand veterans. The funeral will be held from the late residence of General Lee according to the burial rites of the Baptist church, of which General Lee was a member.

FEARFUL STORM IN KANSAS.

One Person Killed—Many Injured—Much Property Destroyed.

Topeka, Kas., May 28.—A terrific wind storm passed over the southern part of Jewell county last night and killed George Hahan and injured 22 persons, seven of them probably fatally.

The storm traveled from the southwest and was 150 yards wide. It took everything in the path and scattered a number of houses, barns and small buildings over the prairie. The property damage will amount to thousands of dollars and the damage to the growing crops is large. The Bowman house was picked up and carried across the street and dashed to pieces against an embankment. The members of the family were all in bed and all are injured.

The home of Frank Crites was blown to pieces and Crites was carried a quarter of a mile and dropped in a cemetery.

WRIGHT BROS.' AEROPLANE.

No Authorized Statement Made—Claims of Success.

Dayton, O., May 28.—Wilbur Wright, of aeroplane fame, interviewed today by the Associated Press, denied the report that the Wright Brothers would publish tomorrow in an Eastern paper a story of their airship over their signatures. He said:

"We have, neither of us, authorized the publication over our signatures of any matter pertaining to our aeroplane nor have we written anything about it. I will say that anything that may be published will have been written from patents we have secured but even these will lack some of the most important features of our invention which we are still keeping secret. You may say that our experiments at Maneto, N. C., were very successful and that we are ready to enter the Government tests as soon as one clause in our contract with the Government is interpreted for us.

"I will say for the aeroplane we have perfected that it is practicable. It is the only machine perfected as yet, in our opinion, capable of doing the work expected of it. The European airships and aeroplanes are much too large and unwieldly for practical purposes. Our machine is about forty feet by seven and is driven by a propeller placed directly amidships. The machine will easily sail 125 miles without alighting, running along on a monorail until sufficient impetus is secured to permit it to rise unaided. More than this we cannot say at this time."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Tarboro Leader.—The Firemen held a reel practice on the Commons last night before an interesting audience of boys and girls and young people. The practice was fine, but some one seeing a bright light across the Commons called out fire, which broke up the crowd. The fire laddies started across the green at a rattling pace, but landed in an unfortunate ditch, breaking the axle.

—News and Observer.—Mr. S. A. Niven, who graduated from the A. and M. college in the course of agriculture, two years ago, has recently been elected to the position of Professor of Agriculture in Kansas State Normal School. Mr. Niven made a good record at the A. and M. College and his friends will be pleased to know of his election to this prominent and responsible position.

—Washington, N. C., May 27.—Hyde county Democratic convention convened in the county court house in Swan Quarter today at twelve o'clock noon and was well attended by delegates from all over the county. Delegates to the State convention were instructed to vote as follows: Craig 2.40; Horne 1.83; Kitchin, .77. All precincts, except Fairfield, instructed unanimously for same State officers.

—Jacksonville, N. C., May 27.—Onslow primaries give: Kitchin 3; Craig 2; Horne 1. Returns not all in.

Clinton Democrat — Huckleberry shipments began from here last week and are now going right freely. The crop is not so large as was thought by many, but is a fairly good sized crop. The price is fairly good also, being 10 to 11 cents here for nice stock, crated, and if it holds up so, considerable revenue will result from it for this section, although many farmers claim that they are of no benefit in the end, because they cause so much neglect of the crops.

—Monroe Journal.—If all the Southern farmers are in the same frame of mind as the Farmer's Union, there will be no doubt about the good price for this year's cotton crop. The union has adopted a strategy that will do the work. Some days ago the president of the national union advised all members to plow up certain per cent. of their cotton and plant food or forage crops instead. Local unions all over the county are acting on this advice. Cotton has been ploughed up in Union, and more will be. This plan was adopted instead of the unual plan of reduction in acreage, so that there could be no doubt about the result. It was argued that if the union was known to be largely reducing before planting time was over, many outside farmers would increase. On the other hand if the union men went on with their planting as usual, there would be no increase by outsiders, but a tendency toward reduction.

—Statesville, N. C., May 27.—Monday about noon, Mr. Gordan S. Pope, who conducts a restaurant on South Center street, was the victim of a painful and serious accident. He was in the act of transferring a pepsi-cola bottle from a crate to an ice box, when the bottle burst with such force that pieces of the glass literally split open the ball of his left eye. Mr. Pope applied some simple remedies to the eye and then boarded No. 22 at 12:22 o'clock and went to Salisbury, where he had the injury dressed by Dr. Brawley. He returned to Statesville on the next train and went to Charlotte that he might have the eye treated by Dr. Wakefield. The physicians have advised him that the sight of the eye is lost for good, and that it might have to be taken out at once to save the uninjured eye. An overcharge of gas caused the bottle to burst.

—News and Observer.—In his charge to the jury in the Federal court yesterday Judge Purnell referred to the State prohibition election Tuesday. He stated that the Federal court did not administer State laws, only administered the acts of Congress, United States laws; but that the people of North Carolina having expressed a preference for prohibition in an election held Tuesday it was the duty of the court, being a citizen of North Carolina, to respect the wishes of the people. "If the State courts will administer the law and pay as much respect to the will of the people as this court will do," said the judge, "the prohibition law will be enforced and respected. While this court," he continued, "does not administer the State law it will respect the wishes of the people to the extent of increasing penalty for violating the Federal statutes to the maximum if necessary, out of respect to the wishes of the people expressed at the polls."

—Clinton Democrat.—In the issue of the Clinton Caucasian of July 14th, 1892, Mr. Butler said. "Now a word to those who have joined the People's party: "What is there to be gained for reform by defeating the Democratic State ticket? Nothing, but much to lose, let the result be what it may. If you elect your ticket you do it at the sufferance of the Republican party and you are at their mercy now and in the future. If you are the cause of the Republican party capturing the State you have given a heavy blow to the cause of reform and put the management of your State in unworthy and incapable hands. Let not those who want office more than they do reform precipitate you into taking any such action. If the people's party candidates are run for the Legislature, then the chances are that the Republicans and the railroad influence will control the next Legislature. This would not only mean misrule for two years if no more, but it would undo all the reforms gained in the last legislature."

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

New York, May 28—The cotton market was nervous and irregular with the close steady at the advance of 5 points to a decline of 8 points, new crop months being relatively easy. Sales were estimated at 275,000.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 3 points and during the early session sold 5 to 7 points net lower on active months owing to disappointing cables, good weather and a continuation of the scattering liquidation noted at the close last night. There was also some selling by local bears but the market steadied in spite of this pressure and during the middle of the day had quite a sharp advance which was led by July on covering of shorts and support from spot interests. July sold up to 10.37 or 24 points net higher, showing the biggest premium it has yet commanded over October which sold only 11 points over last night's close. There seemed to be nothing fresh in the news to explain the sudden strength and later the market eased off again with new crop months closing within a point of the lowest. Weather reports were generally favorable and while complaints arising from the recent storms are still coming in from the Southwest they seem to have lost influence for the time being. A private crop issued during the day made the acreage 2 per cent. smaller than last year and the condition 80 per cent. There were rumors that a report to be issued tomorrow would be bearish. Southern spot markets were generally unchanged.

Receipts at the ports today 8,807 bales against 7,797 last week and 8,787 last year. For the week 50,000 bales against 53,229 last week and 55,229 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 3,575 bales against 3,356 last year and at Houston 1,296 against 1,971 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands 11.40; middling gulf 11.65; sales 157 bales. Futures opened and closed steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

New York, May 28.—The prices on staple print cloth was fixed at 4 3-4 cents by several printers today. Prices on staple ginghams were fixed at 5c net and ticklings were priced at 10 1-2 net. This completes the revision of finished cottons to the levels recently reached on grey goods. Trade in mens wear is recovering rapidly and mills are beginning to resume operations. Some very large duplicate orders for fall have been booked. The jobbing trade holds quite steady and retail trade shows the benefit of more settled warm weather.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 28.—The stock market today had to sustain some rude buffets in the demoralizing breaks in the Gould stocks and the power of resistence to this influence which was displayed had some effect of reassurance on speculative sentiment. The reduction in the official discountrate of the Bank of England was eloquent in the irresistible of the effect of the week into reserve in keeping down rates. The same state of affairs is discernible in our money market where money continues easy in spite of the week's requiremnt of nearly $18,000,000 on the New York banks already met, for return of government deposits and for exports of gold. Apparently this heavy drain is offset fully one third by the continued inflow of currency from the interior.

The passage through the house of the emergency currency bill was the professing ground for some of the early buying of stocks. The Southern railway April statement of earnings confirmed the March statement in its evidence of the successful cutting down of operating expenses to an extent sufficient to yield a better net return than last year. The decidedly cheerful tone of reviews of the iron and steel trade situation was a factor in making up the tone of the day's speculation. So also was the sustained confidence in the crop condition expressed by trade publications.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value $2,688,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Tota l sales stocks today 692,800 shares.

Good For Everybody.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequaled 50c at R. R. Bellamy's drug store.

THE WOOD PULP INVESTIGATION

Majority and Minority Reports From The House Special Committee.

THE MAJORITY REPORT

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

Washington, May 28.—The special committee of six members of the House, appointed upon complaint of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association to investigate the wood pulp and print paper situation in relation to the tariff and with regard to an alleged conspiracy in restraint of trade today submitted a majority and a minority report.

The majority report, which is signed by Representative Mann, of Illinois, Miller of Kansas; Stafford, of Wisconsin and Bannon of Ohio, is a preliminary report and recommends that no legislation affecting wood pulp and print paper be enacted until the committee has further investigated and reported.

The minority report, which is signed by Representatives Sims, of Tennessee, and Ryan, of New York, recommends the passage of the Stevens bill to place wood pulp and print paper on the free list.

The majority report is summed up in the following words:

"As the present price of paper would not to any considerable degree be immediately affected by the repeal of the tariff, and as the passage of the Stevens bill in its present form might spell 'ruin' to the paper industry and cause ruinously high prices for paper in the near future, your committee believes it is the part of wisdom before making recommendations for positive legislation to await until its investigation has been completed and thoroughly digested."

The report says that the tabulation of returned schedules of newspapers by the census office covers but few of the metropolitan dailies which are the heavy consumers.

"From these returns the average price at present, including in many cases freight charges to 919 papers, is $2.86 per hundred; that of these 361 using paper in rolls have an average price of $2.54, and 558 have an average of $3.07 for paper in sheets.

It seems probable that the publishers paying high prices most readily responded to the inquiries of the committee.

As to the charge of the existence of a combination in restraint of trade, the report says:

"The evidence before the committee so far fails to prove any combination of print paper manufacturers to advance prices, or otherwise in restraint of trade, but considerable evidence was presented which might excite suspicion that such a combination had been made and was in existence.

"Such of the paper manufacturers as have appeared before the committee during its hearing have strenuously and completely denied under oath the existence of any combination, agreement or understanding of any nature whatever among the paper manufacturers or their selling agents to regulate, control or advance the price of paper, the assignment of customers or for any other purpose in restraint of trade."

Under the sub-head, "Removal of the tariff" the report in part says:

"The question as to the removal of the tariff on print paper and wood pulp is intimately connected with the conservation of the forest resources of the United States, as well as its effect upon the paper manufacturing industry and the newspaper publishing industry. The committee is not yet prepared to make a recommendation as to the permanent policy of the United States in regard to the duty on paper and pulp, except that the committee is firmly of the opinion that the tariff on newsprint paper and on wood pulp should not be removed as to paper or pulp coming from any country or place which prohibits the exportation of pulp wood, or which levies any export duty on paper pulp, or pulp wood, or makes any higher charge in any way upon wood pulp or pulp wood intended for exportation to the United States.

"The evidence taken so far would seem to indicate that the temporary suspension or entire removal of the present tariff would not have any great immediate effect.

"Your committee proposes during the Summer vacation to continue its investigations and expects to be able to present to the House at the next session of Congress definite recommendations based upon complete information thoroughly considered.

The minority report endorses the Stevens bill in its entirety and recommends its passage.

Continuing, the report says:

"Evidence of concert of action on the part of paper makers in obtaining higher prices are furnished by reports from many newspapers located in every part of the country though actual violation of the criminal statutes has not been shown. However, the paper makers failed to explain the uniformity of price or to entirely justify their advance in price.

"We find that the existing duties have raised the price of wood pulp and print paper, not only in itself, but by giving to the paper manufacturers a shelter behind which they could organize combinations, which, if not technically susceptible of proof as unlawful trusts, are, in our opinion, in reality such.

"We find that the revenues derived from import duties on pulp and printing paper are so small and the benefits to be obtained from the abolition of those duties are so considerable that we urge the placing of pulp and printing paper on the free list. We believe that relief from existing conditions can be fully and promptly secured only by the immediate consideration and passage of H. R. No. 18,608, introduced by Mr. Stevens."

THE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

Yesterday's Proceedings—Reports of Committees—Appeal From Texas.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Greensboro, N. C., May 28.—When today's sessions of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church began, devotional services were conducted by Rev. Dr. A. A. Little, of Alabama. Reports from a number of committees were presented but all were sent to the docket for future consideration.

The case of the Presbytery of Eastern Texas against the Synod of Texas, hearing of which was begun last night, was resumed today. Argument on behalf of the Presbytery was presented by Rev. J. H. Lacy and Judge Aldrich. Argument for the Synod was opened by Rev. J. P. Robertson, and he had not concluded when the hour for recess had arrived. The case is an appeal of the Presbytery of Eastern Texas from the action of the Synod. The Presbytery refused to grant a petition from the church at Beaumont, Texas, to dissolve the relations of its pastor, Rev. F. E. Robbins. The matter was taken to the Synod which ordered the pastoral relation dissolved. Now the Assembly is asked to sustain the Presbytery and reverse the Synod.

The hearing of the appeal of the Eastern Texas Synod was completed late this afternoon. The vote stood: To sustain the appeal 99; not to sustain 27; to sustain in part 5.

A committee was appointed to formulate the judgment of the Assembly in the case.

The report of the committee on publication, Sabbath School work and young people's societies was presented and adopted. A vote of appreciation was tendered R. E. McGill, secretary of this committee. Mr. McGill was re-elected for a term of three years.

Tonight the first business was the presentation and adoption of recommendations of the committee on ministerial education and relief. The report calls for $80,000 next year, $40,000 in each department. Rev. Henry H. Sweets, was re-elected secretary of this committee. He made a short address emphasizing the need of more men for the gospel ministry and more money for the work.

The committee on audits made its report and it was adopted. The salary of stated clerk was fixed at $1,000 per year payable monthly with an allowance of $100 for assistance.

The committee on schools and colleges presented a number of recommendations. Pending this report Professor Henry Louis Smith, president of Davidson college, was asked to present to the assembly some statistics which he had compiled.

Professor Smith declared that the church college is indispensible to the church, but that the church college is steadily losing ground in the South and that the church at large is unaware of its danger. He referred to the church college for men which is fighting for its life. He said we are now in the golden age of the church college for women. Professor Smith supported his statement by an array of statistics. He said the State will monopolize higher education unless the church comes to the rescue of the church college. He advised that Greek be no longer required in church colleges. He referred to the Carnegie fund as one of the dangers against which the church college must contend.

At the conclusion of Professor Smith's address he was extended a vote of thanks.

It is expected the assembly will adjourn tomorrow.

RECOUNTING THE BALLOTS.

Six Boxes Counted Yesterday Give Hearst 41 More Votes.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 23.—When today's session of the McClellan-Hearst recount trial was concluded a total of 41 votes had been added to William R. Hearst's vote in the 1905 mayoralty election. The contents of six boxes were overhauled in the presence of the court and several discrepancies of the official count were brought to light.

In one case, while the tally sheet and the official canvass figures were identical, the count of the ballots disclosed 23 more votes for Hearst than had been returned. This was the greatest gain of the day for the Hearst side, the returns being found correct in two districts and errors which added from two to seven to the Hearst total in four others. The net result of the count for the two days' session has been to give the contestant for the mayoralty 68 more votes than he was credited with receiving, eight ballot boxes recounted adding this number to the Hearst total.

In the case of the ballot box of one district examined today counsel for Mayor McClellan called attention to the condition of a strip of paper pasted over the slit in the top of the box. They told the court this looked to them as if the box had been tampered with. The box cover was carefully examined by the jurymen. The recount of this box disclosed a gain of three votes for Hearst.

During the latter part of the session two boxes were opened at a time and the re-count went along with more celerity.

The recounting of the votes will be continued tomorrow.

—Kinston Free Press.—Messrs. Turner & Davis who have been running a general merchandise business on Queen street made an assignment, yesterday, for the benefit of crditors Mr. C. W. Pridgen was made assignee and the bill of particulars of liabilities amounts to about $2,300. Financial stringency was the cause of their closing business.

KILLING TIME IN CONGRESS

This Was The Order of The Day in The Two Houses at Yesterdays' Session.

AN ADJOURNMENT TODAY

Program Looked For—The Senate Expected to Pass the Compromise Currency Bill—Both Houses Pass Bills.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, May 28.—The consideration of the conference report on the Currency bill in the Senate today showed plainly that there would be little or no obstructive tactics against its passage. Senator Aldrich briefly explained the measure, and a little political by-play was introduced by Senator Culberson, of Texas, and Bacon, of Georgia, who taunted members of the majority with disinclination to pass anti-injunction and campaign contribution publicity bills before adjournment, which called forth claims of interest in both measures by Senators on both sides of the chamber, but gave no promise of action at this session.

Senators Teller, of Colorado; Owen, of Oklahoma, and Newlands, of Nevada, all spoke in opposition to the Currency bill and, no other Senators desiring to speak today, the latter part of the session was devoted to considering unobjected bills on the calendar.

Mr. Aldrich expressed his belief that the Currency bill would be disposed of tomorrow.

House bills were passed by the Senate today, requiring inter-State railroads to equip locomotives with ash pans that will not require employes to go under the locomotive to dump and clean them and to promote the safe transportation of explosives.

The anticipated strenuous opposition to the adoption of the conference report of the Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill in the Senate, according to the inference to be drawn from the debate today, probably will not materialize. Senator Aldrich kept the report before the Senate until 4 o'clock P. M., when he assented to its being laid aside until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

Every Senator realized that the meaning of this move was that an understanding had been reached to vote on the bill tomorrow. Inquiry proved the existence of this understanding. The indications are, therefore, that Congress will adjourn sine die tomorrow or Saturday.

Unquestionably the high temperature had something to do with the disposition on the part of many Senators to discuss the bill.

At no time was there a quorum present except when the roll was being called to establish the quorum. During the morning the Democrats had sweltered through a conference lasting more than an hour, at which it was decided not to filibuster against the bill. While the conference had no binding force the sentiment favored the minority standing together in a solid vote against the bill. On the other hand, it is not likely that more than two Republicans will join the opposition.

The discussion today was opened by Senator Aldrich who made a brief statement concerning the compromise bill. Some of the Democrats then sought to get an agreement to consider the Campaign Publicity bill, and afterwards speeches against the Currency measures were made by Senators Teller, Newlands, and Owen. No other Senator was ready to speak.

Senator Aldrich spent most of the day trying to arrange an agreement to vote on the bill tomorrow. This was not opposed by Senator Culberson, the minority leader, but Senator LaFollette, who is very much opposed to the bill, asked that a motion for an agreement be not pressed.

The Senate at 5:30 o'clock adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

House of Representatives.

While the Senate was wrestling with the currency question the business of the House today went merrily on. The following measures were passed:

To establish two or more fish cultural stations on Puget Sound, Washington: amending the laws of transportation between Hawaii and the United States by removing the penalty for carrying passengers from Hawaii to this country; providing for the entry of agricultural lands in forest reserves; authorizing the Baltimore & Washington Transit Company, of Maryland, to enter the District of Columbia; establishing an assay office at Salt Lake City, Utah; incorporating the brotherhood of St. Andrew and incorporating the Congressional Club, which is composed of the wives and daughters of Senators and members of Congress.

The work of the House being practically completed and the heat being unusually oppressive, a recess at 4:40 o'clock P. M. was taken until 11:59 A. M. tomorrow.

The Russian battleship Peter the Great, which ran on the rocks Wednesday night in the gulf of Finland, was re-floated without assistance. The battleship made her way in safety to Reval. The extent of the damage to her hull has not yet been ascertained.

A RACE HORSE FAILS.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, May 28.—Having borne the colors of James R. Keen thirteen times to victory and never having suffered defeat, Colin, the Commando-Pastorella colt, which horsemen generally considered the grestest race horse ever bred in this country, broke down today after a fast work-out and probably will never again face the barrier. Twelve times last year as a 2-year-old Colin defeated his fields in easy fashion, and last Saturday at Belmont Park, in his first start this season he galloped home in front of a number of high class horses. He will be retired to Mr. Keene's stud farm in Kentucky.

The injury was sustained at Sheepshead Bay this morning. Colin with a heavy boy up made a fast trial of one and a quarter miles in preparation for the $25,000 Belmont stakes to be run Saturday at Belmont Park. It was noticed after he had been pulled up that he favored his left foreleg and investigation proved that he bowed both front tendons. Colin ran the mile and a quarter today in 2.05. The mile was made in 1:38 1-5. Colin has won for Mr. Keene about $141,000 in stakes and purses—$132,000 as a 2-year-old and $9,000 in the Withers last Saturday.

TORPEDO TEST.

To Be Made Against the Florida—Expected She Will be Sunk.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

Washington, May 28.—The next of the destructive tests to be made upon the monitor Florida is fixed for June 10, as stated at the navy department. On that date the Florida will be brought from the Norfolk navy yard to a suitable spot in Hampton Roads, where the depth of water probably will not exceed 20 or 25 feet and there will be attacked by an American Whitehead torpedo, which will be directed against a spot on the hull about six or eight feet below the water line, inside of which will be located a special form of bulkhead which probably will be filled with water.

The torpedo will carry a bursting charge of 200 pounds of gun cotton and is expected to sink the Florida at the first attempt. The vessel will easily be raised owing to the shallow depth of water.

HALE-DAVIS MURDER TRIAL.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Bristol, Tenn., May 28.—The fate of Ack Hale, on trial for the murder of his sweetheart, Lillie Davis, at Blountville, will be in the hands of the jury tomorrow morning. Many witnesses were dispensed with and the case brought to a conclusion this afternoon. The court gave the attorneys on either side two hours in which to make their argument to the jury. A night session is being held and it is expected that the closing speeches of J. S. Ashworth for the defense and Attorney General Harmon for the prosecution will be early tomorrow morning and the judge will immediately charge the jury. The case is attracting much attention. Not a great amount of new evidence that was not adduced at the first trial has been brought out, while much has been omitted.

CHANGE OF BLUE JACKETS.

A Number of Recruits to be Sent to Pacific—Others to Come Home.

(By Wire to the Morning Star)

Washington, May 28.—June 12th has been fixed as the date of the sailing of the auxiliary cruiser Prairie from Newport, R. I., with 700 blue jackets from the naval training station there for Colon. At Panama they are to be transferred to the Buffalo, which will take them to San Francisco. These men are intended to fill vacancies in the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. The Buffalo will bring a number of men whose terms of enlistment with the vessels on the Pacific coast have expired and these will be sent up to Hampton Roads on the Prairie. The army transport Buford is to sail from San Francisco on June 5th with 700 men for the ships on the Asiatic station.
